Girl Held Over For Bigamy—Many Misdemeanor Cases Heard and Decided.

LITTLE IN THE OTHER COURTS

POLICE COURT.

John Clifford, Bob Medley and Bill Smith, for plain drinks, pleaded guilty and were fined $1 and costs each.

James Alexander was fined $5 and costs for being drunk and disorderly. Drew Sterrett and Roy Van Dyke were fined $10 and costs each for a breach of the peace, on motion of the prosecuting attorney.

W. P. Clark of Carlisle county pleaded guilty to a breach of the peace, and on motion of the prosecuting attorney was fined $5 and costs.

Will Harris, white, was fined $1 and costs for being drunk and getting into the wrong house. He has but one arm, and for this reason received the leniency of the court.

Will Harris and Sallie Bibbs, colored, were charged with going to the house of Sophie Harris, the former's wife, and creating a disturbance. Harris, it seems, was trying to get the other woman to whip his own wife, for which he was fined $25 and costs. The case against the woman, who is ill, was postponed.

John Kelley, white, was charged with slapping his sister, Mary, because she was associated with people to whom he objected. Her replies to his good advice as a brother were so provoking that the court did not seem just to fine him, and dismissed the warrant, recognizing him in the sum of $200 to keep the peace hereafter.

A breach of the peace case against Harry Ashbrook, Manager J. E. English of The Kentucky and Mr. Gus Rogers, the door keeper, was continued, as the warrant had not been served on the former. The trouble occurred in the front of the theatre Saturday night, and resulted in no serious damage to any one.

James Hester, colored, was fined $25 and costs for blacking his wife's eye because she didn't have breakfast ready when he went home.

A case against Clemmie Foster, charged with using insulting language toward Ada Denninger, and threatening to cut her throat, was left open. The woman swears directly opposite one another, and it looks as if the Denninger woman has sworn to something that is untrue, and will be warranted for perjury.

The case against Al Dawson, colored, a well known huckster, for violating the ordinance limiting hawk fare to twenty-five cents inside the city limits before midnight was left open. He carried John Mack, a motorman, to his uncle's, out on the Mayfield gravel road, and although it is inside the city limits, it is a long drive, and this may go in mitigation of any fine assessed.

The case against James Berry, a driver for the Palmer Transfer Co., charged with soliciting patronage on the union depot platform, was dismissed. No one heard him solicit patronage, and he swore that the two men he placed in his hack solicited him, and already had tickets purchased of the company.

The case against Mr. R. J. Settle, charged with violating the ordinance requiring a $50 auctioneer's license, was continued until tomorrow.

Walter Summers, colored, for false swearing, continued until Saturday.

Rena Jones, alias Hart, alias Hays, was held to answer for bigamy. The evidence showed that she claimed to be married to a man in Henderson named Monroe Eppay, and the defense introduced no proof to show that she was not a bigamist. She recently married Louis Boatright of the city.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The last week of the civil term of circuit court began this morning, and next Monday the three weeks' term of court begins at Benton. April is the regular criminal term of the McCracken term begins, and there will doubtless be a large docket.

Jalia Ross, guardian, and others were given a judgment against Stella Ross and others in the circuit court this morning to secure the sale of land in another part of the state for re-investment.

In the consolidated cases of J. M. Lang and others against A. H. Edwards and others, and W. I. Edwards against A. H. Edwards, the plaintiff in the former case is given a judgment for $250 and the plaintiff in the latter action is given a judgment for $400 and an attachment is also given to secure the payment of the judgment.

Mrs. Mary Frank, executrix, has filed a suit against H. A. and N. E. Story for a general attachment on the defendants' property to satisfy a judgment for $4,370, which, with interest, now amounts to $51.60. The petition says that papers for an attachment

PRINCE HENRY HAS ARRIVED

He is Extended a Cordial Welcome By the People of America.

New York, Feb. 24.—Prince Henry of Prussia, representative of his brother, the emperor of Germany, at the launching of the latter's American built yacht, reached New York yesterday morning and was cordially welcomed as a guest of the nation.

The land batteries that guard the outer harbor sounded the first greeting in a pattering salute of twenty-one guns; the rifles of a special naval squadron assembled in his honor echoed the sentiment; there were verbal greetings from the representatives of President Roosevelt, the army and navy and the city of New York and a great crowd lined the way to the city to see and cheer the sailor prince of Germany.

Rear Admiral Evans, commander of the special squadron and honorary aide to the prince, left the flagship Illinois at 9:40 o'clock in the naval tug Nina. With him were Captain G. A. Converse, his chief of staff; Flag Lieutenant Frederick Chapin, Ensign Frank T. Evans, aide, and Captain Rebeur-Paschwitz, naval attaché at the Washington embassy of the German government.

Prince Henry, attired in the uniform of an admiral of the German navy, and surrounded by his naval and military staff in brilliant uniform, stood on the bridge of the liner. As the naval tug drew nearer to the side of the steamship, Prince Henry and Admiral Evans caught sight of each other, and exchanged informal salutes. As the two vessels, with a flotilla of tugs and official craft, moved in past Fort Wadsworth, the first of the salutes of twenty-one guns was fired. As the first gun sounded, the prince advanced to the end of the bridge of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm, and stood at attention. As he passed the big American flag floating over the fortifications, he touched his cap in salute, and the members of his suite did likewise. The flag at the jackstaff of the Kron Prinz was dipped, and the German naval band, accompanying the prince played "The Star Spangled Banner."

The guns of Fort Wadsworth were not silent before those across the Narrows at Fort Hamilton boomed out their salute; then the Kron Prinz was stopped and Admiral Evans and his staff boarded her. Admiral Evans was escorted forward, and the prince came forward ment were placed in the hands of the sheriff when the judgment was handed down, but the returns showed no property found. It is alleged that the defendant has property in Marshall county that is in the name of N. E. Story, and he wants the deed pronounced null and void and the property declared that of H. A. Story and a general attachment issued against it.

In the case of William Floyd against the Paducah street railway, the motion for a new trial was sustained, and the case set for trial on the second day of the April term.

In the case of Boike against the U. S. Benevolent Society, the motion for a new trial was overruled.

In the case of Peter Roche, administrator, against Earle Pugh, a judgment to sell land was filed.

The case of Jennie E. Beard against the Manhattan Life Insurance company was reinstated on the docket and a mandate from the court of appeals filed.

At press time the case of J. F. Jackson, assignee of the Campbell-Mulvihill Coal company against the McHenry coal company was on trial.

COUNTY COURT.

Anderson Woods has qualified as a notary public.

S. B. Caldwell, Jr., this afternoon qualified as a notary public.

G. Raymond Harris, aged 22, a stenographer of Louisville, and Martha A. Dye, aged 23, of Louisville were this afternoon licensed to wed. It will make the first marriage of both.

John Harmon was this afternoon appointed the executor of the estate of C. W. McFadden.

"BILLY" EMERSON DEAD.

Boston, Feb. 24.—William Emerson Richmond, or, as he was familiarly known, "Billy" Emerson, the famous minstrel, died last night at Dimans hotel, where he has lived for several months past.

In the consolidated cases of J. M. Lang and others against A. H. Edwards and others, and W. I. Edwards against A. H. Edwards, the plaintiff in the former case is given a judgment for $250 and the plaintiff in the latter action is given a judgment for $400 and an attachment is also given to secure the payment of the judgment.

Mrs. Mary Frank, executrix, has filed a suit against H. A. and N. E. Story for a general attachment on the defendants' property to satisfy a judgment for $4,370, which, with interest, now amounts to $51.60. The petition says that papers for an attachment and taking the hand of the naval officer, shook, it warmly. "I am very glad to see you, sir," said the admiral.

"Everybody in the United States is waiting to welcome you. It is my pleasure, sir, to formally greet you in their behalf."

"I thank you, sir, and through you the people of your country," responded the prince. "I am very glad to be here on this splendid day. The emperor directed me to convey his compliments to you, admiral, and I do so with very great pleasure."

The following message was received by Prince Henry from President Roosevelt, in response to the prince's wireless message off Nantuxett Island:

"White House, February 22. "Prince Henry of Prussia, the Hohenzollern, New York:

"Accept my heartiest greetings on your safe arrival. I thank you for your message. In the name of the American people I will see you, and I look forward to meeting you personally tomorrow."

"Theodore Roosevelt."

The prince invited to luncheon those of the Americans among his callers who represented the navy, and, besides these, there were at the board the members of the prince's suite, and members of the German embassy at Washington.

The prince boarded the tug Nina at 3:30 to repay his calls. He was accompanied by one aide and Admiral Evans and Ensigns Evans and Chapin. He visited the navy yard first, called on Admiral Barker and then Governor's Island, where he called on General Brooke. From Governor's Island the prince proceeded to the battleship Illinois, where he called on Admiral Evans and inspected the ship. He was received by the squadron with the honors due his rank. From the Illinois the prince returned to the pier at Thirty-fourth street and went on board the Hohenzollern for dinner.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Prince Henry was warmly welcomed by President Roosevelt today, and there was a big crowd to see the procession from the train to the White House. The visitors were guarded by secret service men.

There was also a warm welcome at Baltimore.

LEGISLATURE LATE.

IT DID NOT GET DOWN TO WORK THIS MORNING ON TIME.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 24.—The legislature was late this morning in getting down to work. The senate passed a bill exempting Kentucky insurance companies from paying cash surrender value on policies until three annual premiums are paid.

There is some opposition in the senate to amending on the redistricting bill tomorrow evening.

The senate defeated the bill allowing women to vote in presidential elections. The house passed the Colon bill making it a felony to break into game preserves or orchards with a seven foot high fence.

REPORTED CHALLENGE.

TILLMAN'S NAME TAKEN FROM A DINNER LIST BY PRESIDENT.

Washington, Feb. 24.—President Roosevelt today withdraws his invitation to Senator Tillman to attend the dinner to Prince Henry. Senator Martin of Virginia takes his place. Neither Tillman's nor McLaure's name was on the Senate's roll call today. It is reported that McLaure has challenged Tillman to fight a duel.

BIG JUDGMENT

L. AND N. WINS SUIT ON A CONTRACT MADE IN 1872.

Louisville Feb. 24.—Judge Tony, this morning gave the L. and N. a judgment against the Louisville Bridge company for $150,000, and $1,000 against the Pan Handle for breach of contract made in 1872.

TRUST WINS.

SUPREME COURT DECIDES IT HAS NO JURISDICTION IN MINNESOTA CASE.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The supreme court holds that it has no jurisdiction in the case of Minnesota against the Northern Securities company. This is a victory for the railroad trust.

MRS. THEODORE W. BIRNEY, PRESIDENT MOTHERS' CONGRESS.

For five consecutive years Mrs. Theodore W. Birney has served as president of the National Congress of Mothers, and at the coming session, which convenes in Washington Feb. 25, she will probably be re-elected.

IMPORTANT ARREST.

Mose Maxey Charged With Stealing Brass From Water Company.

Two Other Alleged Thieves Taken in Custody By the Police.

Officer James Collins made an important arrest this morning just before noon. Mose Maxey, colored, was arrested on the charge of stealing brass, tubing and tools from the Paducah water company. The stuff stolen is estimated to be worth about $50. Most of the tools were pawned at Levy's shop, but the remainder of the stuff, the brass and piping, remains to be found. The list of stuff pawned fills several medium sized pages, and Mr. Levy was at the city hall this afternoon with the list to aid the officers in recovering the remainder of the goods. A warrant was issued against Maxey this afternoon, and he will have his examining trial this morning.

Junius Alexander, colored, who was fined for drunkenness in the police court this morning, is again under arrest on a warrant charging petit larceny. Henry Watkins appeared and swore out the warrant charging the defendant with the theft of his coat. The case will be tried tomorrow morning.

John Thomas, colored, is charged with the theft of hides and bundles of sacking from the Ohio Valley Produce company. It is claimed that he stole the articles from the produce company and deposited them in the rear of Baer's hide house on South Second street. Captain Bailey and Lieutenant Moore effected his arrest. His case has not been tried.

NEW TEACHER.

MISS KIRK, OF LOUISVILLE, INSTALLED AS EIGHTH GRADE TEACHER.

Miss Susanne Kirk, of Louisville, late of Texas, was this morning installed in the Eighth grade of the Washington building. She will act as the substitute of Miss Harriett Wilson, resigned, until some action is taken by the board relative to the election of a regular teacher and Miss Kirk will probably be made the permanent teacher for the remainder of the term. Miss Kirk is a graduate of the Louisville High school and comes well recommended, and is a young lady of charming personality.

MISS STONE FREE.

The Abducted Missionary at Last Released.

She is on Her Way Now to Friends in Salonica.

Constantinople, Feb. 24.—Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, who, with Miss Tilkka, was captured by brigands in the district of Salonica, September 3 last, has been released, and arrived at Strumitza, Macedonia, at 3 o'clock this morning. Nobody was at Strumitza to meet Miss Stone, as the brigands had given no indication where they proposed to release the prisoners.

Miss Tilkka and her baby were also released at the same time. They are all well. Miss Stone immediately made herself known to the authorities at Strumitza.

The first news of Miss Stone's release was contained in a telegram received by Mr. Dickinson, the American consul-general at Constantinople, from the American vice-consul at Salonica. The telegram gives no details of the release.

As Strumitza is near the Salonica Uskub railroad, Miss Stone will proceed to Salonica without delay.

BEGINS TONIGHT AT BROADWAY METHODIST CHURCH—ALL CHURCHES TO JOIN HANDS.

The first service of the union meeting conducted by Rev. W. E. Biederwolf of Indiana, will be held tonight at the Broadway Methodist church, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. This meeting is not under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. but the local Ministerial Association who have invited Mr. Biederwolf to remain for a joint union revival participated in by the churches represented in the Ministerial Association. Mr. Biederwolf made a pleasant impression on all during the convention, and his meeting has the promise of success. The singing will be in charge of Mr. Harry L. Maxwell.

THE CONVENTION ENDS

Meetings of the Y. M. C. A. Well Attended Yesterday—Delegates Nearly All Gone.

LAST NIGHT'S SESSION.

A union farewell service at The Kentucky on Sunday night was a fitting finale to a well spent day and a fine convention. The crowd began to gather long before the doors were opened, and the seating and standing capacity of the house was soon taxed to its utmost. The meeting was presided over by State Secretary Henry E. Rosevear, and moved off with the grace and finish that marks all that Mr. Rosevear does. All the delegates, the local ministers and members of the Y. M. C. A. were seated on the stage. Mr. Harry L. Maxwell led the service of song, accompanied by Mr. A. J. Bamberg on the cornet. The Henderson Association chorus rendered some delightful special music. These singers have won many laurels for themselves here, and have contributed to the convention's pleasure greatly. Miss Greene of Louisville, who has become a great favorite here, rendered a beautiful violin solo. Prayers were made by Rev. W. H. Pinkerton and Rev. B. E. Reed.

Mr. Don O. Shelton of New York City was the first speaker of the evening, and his eloquent, glowing address on "Our Responsibility to the Non-Christian World," was handled with a charm that is distinctively Mr. Shelton's own. Mr. Shelton shows the influence of travel and culture on a deeply earnest spirituality, is vital and most versatile and he never tires his audience. He said in substance:

"An urgent reason for sending the Gospel to young men in non-Christian lands is the fact that we ourselves possess the Gospel. From the time the first disciple followed Jesus in Galilee, the purpose of the true Christian has been to evangelize the world. All the world is the Lord's. He died for all the world. The message of glad tidings is therefore to go to all the world. In the morning time of the Christian era Jesus left His church to evangelize the race, and now to us He commits the same sublime enterprise."

"Back of every Christian man and woman is this divine commission. We have been given light. Shall we hide it from those who sit in darkness? We have been given life—even abundant life. Shall we withhold it from those who are dead while they live? We have been given hope—even an unspeakable hope. Shall we refrain from bestowing it upon those who are in despair? Of each one who has the priceless treasure of the Gospel, it is required that he declares it to the fullest extent of his opportunity and ability."

"Our obligation is increased by the fact that the more ardently we seek to spread the Gospel, the greater will be its power in our own lives. To all who make a wise use of what they have, more shall be given. A senator in Massachusetts, when it was proposed to incorporate a foreign missionary society, objected on the ground that it was intended to 'export religion,' whereas, there was none to spare from among ourselves." The apt reply was, "Religion is a commodity of which the more we export the more we have remaining." The light that speeds from the individual Christian to the remote places of earth will shine most brightly in the particular place where that individual lives and works."

"Our obligation to declare the Gospel to all men is further increased by our possession of adequate facilities and by the providential opening of opportunities. Already the Bible has been translated into the languages and dialects of the leading peoples. Every attempt made by missionary scholars of the church to translate the Bible into the language and dialects of the people among whom they labored, has been crowned with success. Even in China, where your own representative, Mr. Fletcher W. Brockman, is laboring, the people may read the Scripture in their native tongue, the formidable difficulties of translating the Chinese language, said: 'To learn Chinese is work for men with bodies of brass, lungs of steel, heads of oak, hands of spring steel, eyes of eagles, hearts of apostles, memories of angels, and lives of Methuselah.' In spite of the gigantic obstacles in the way of translating the divine Word, it may now be read in four hundred languages. At the beginning of the last century the Bible was an open book to but two-tenths of mankind; now it is open to seven-tenths."

"We have the men to take the message. We have the means to send the men with the message. Back of our ability are the ardent love of God, the sure promises of God and the exceeding great power of God. He who has bidden that the work be done has supplied all that is needed for the prompt and efficient prosecution of His divine command."

"The nations of the world are open to Christian witness-bearers. The whole world is known. The whole world is accessible. Never in the history of the world have nations been more in sympathy with each other. Never have they been so willing to cooperate, never have been so bright the possibilities of taking to them the Gospel of Christ."

"Our obligation is made pressing by the fact that the Lord is working with those who have gone forth, confirming the word by the signs that have followed. In less than fifteen years foundations have been laid in Japan, China, India and South America for a most substantial and far-reaching work."

"The conference recently conducted by Mr. John R. Mott, at Nanking, China, was most significant in its results. It was attended by one hundred and thirty-one natives, and thirty-nine foreign delegates. Of these, fourteen were presidents of colleges and academies and thirty-five were teachers. To attend this notable conference some of these educators remained away from their work several weeks, at the busiest time of the year. The delegates pledged over $1,700 toward the extension of Christian work among Chinese students, an average of $8 each, from the Chinese delegates contributors."

"Men of several different languages, representing fifteen denominational societies, were present. In summing up the results of the conference, Mr. Brockman says: 'The movement in China is five years ahead of what it was when Mr. Mott came.' For other clear evidences of the working of the Spirit of God, witness the growth of this movement in Japan, where a thousand students, within a few days, recently confessed Christ as their Savior. Witness the growing work at Calcutta, India, where in one month, 3,380 young men attended the religious meetings of the association, nine-tenths of them being non-Christian students. Witness the vigorous association already established at Madras, India, with a membership of nearly 700. Truly the Lord has already confirmed His word by these notable signs."

"This obligation is a personal one. It is the high privilege of every Christian to be a witness bearer. Nothing better proves the genuineness of a profession of faith in Christ than activity for the salvation of others. The rule of all who can not go should be to help others to go. The maxim of Francis Wayland should therefore be written large on the heart of every Christian: 'Every disciple should be a disciple.'"

"Hence, every disciple may be a missionary."

"We may witness to Him by our prayers. It is the command of Jesus that we pray the Lord of the harvest to thrust forth laborers into His harvest. For all the work that we can do in behalf of all the work that we ourselves cannot do, it is our privilege to pray. The prayer room that was placed at the top of the Young Men's Christian building at Tokio, Japan, and the small rooms for prayer placed in Jaffa college, Ceylon, should be a constant reminder to Christian young men in America that prayer is potential. Recall the power of the intercessory prayers of David Brainerd, the faithful missionary to the North American Indians, and learn the power of intercession of the salvation of the race."

"Pray that a deep desire for the triumph of the word of Christ may constrain us to use to the utmost the priceless gift of believing prayer."

"We may bear witness to Christ by an intelligent use of the money that He is enabling us to acquire. The command to preach the Gospel to all men implies that we are under obligation to help others to go to non-Christian nations if we cannot go ourselves. All who go must be sustained by the prayers and gifts of those who remain. As we have a right to expect those who have gone forth to obey the voice of the Spirit of God, so they have a right to expect those of us who remain to obey His calls."

"God is at both ends of the work; here, fitting us for our task, and there, qualifying those who have gone out, for theirs."

"At a very low estimate the active members of the Young Men's Christian Association in North America have an annual income of over fifty-two million dollars. Our capacity therefore, is great. Every Christian man must recognize his stewardship and give generously of that which God is giving him for the extension of His Kingdom. The promise of Jesus abides:

"Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over shall they give into your bosom. For with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again." The church—and hence the Young Men's Christian Association as an agent of the church—now has complete facilities for doing this 'world wide work, steam, electricity, the telephone, the printing press, colleges, missionaries, universities and, in addition to these, commanding wealth. Let it be our joy, therefore, cheerfully and promptly to meet this obligation. A quick response to the young men in the associations of America to make, will double and quadruple the present force of workers in non-Christian lands. Jesus Christ looks into each of our hearts, knows the capacity of each for forwarding this divine enterprise, but expects us to do the utmost that we can. He demands that we meet our full obligation out of a heart filled with love for Him."

"Now let us do it."

A collection was taken up for the carrying on of Mr. Brockman's work in China, and met with a prompt response.

After a fine solo by Mr. Maxwell, Mr. Rosevear gave as the next subject, "Some Impressions of the convention," and called on Mr. Charles C. Stoll, a representative business man of Louisville to speak. He spoke from the business man's point of view and gave some good practical thoughts, as did Mr. J. Whit Potter, a prominent banker of Bowling Green, who seemed his impression very cleverly. The committee on resolutions gracefully thanked all who had contributed to the convention in any way. Three hundred and eighty-one delegates were reported present.

President F. C. Nunemacher then stated his "Impressions" in a very bright way.

Mr. L. Wilbur Messer of Chicago spoke on "The message of the convention for the men of Paducah," particularly emphasizing a splendid association building as the outcome. Mr. Robert Waidensall spoke on "Our Opportunity," and Mr. A. M. Bruner made a clever and apt little talk on "What Will We Do With It?"

As the close of the convention drew near, there was an ever-deepening solemnity that led up to the most beautiful and solemn scene ever witnessed by many here. The Y. M. C. A. delegates and local members formed a circle extending entirely around the house. Standing with hands clasped, they received a most beautiful and solemn charge from Rev. W. E. Biederwolf of Indiana, that should inspire them to better work and linger with them for all time. The first three verses of "Blest Be the Tie that Binds" were then sung by the delegates as they thus stood, the audience rising and joining the last verse. The convention was formally adjourned by President Nunemacher, and the congregation was dismissed by prayer. And one of the most delightful occasions in Paducah's list of notable conventions became a part of history.

Yesterday afternoon and last night the trains out of Paducah were crowded to their fullest capacity, with convention delegates, and all have not yet returned. State Secretary Rosevear left at noon.

This morning several dozen delegates left for Madisonville and Hopkinsville and other cities on the Louisville division of the road, and at noon many more left. There are some few who will remain in Paducah several days longer to visit.

The Hopkinsville cadets left in the afternoon about four o'clock in a special coach. They made a good impression in Paducah and did some excellent drilling.

THE CONVENTION IN THE CHURCHES.

Most of the local pulpits were filled yesterday morning by the visitors to the Y. M. C. A. convention, and many splendid addresses were made. Large and interested congregations greeted them everywhere.

CAPT. HOBSON'S RECEPTION.

The reception of Capt. Richmond P. Hobson Saturday afternoon and evening amounted to an ovation. He was met at the Illinois Central train by Acting Mayor Reed and the reception committee, and escorted to the Palmer House, with the Hopkinsville cadets as guard of honor. He then attended a reception of the D. A. R., in honor of Washington's birthday at the home of Mrs. H. S. Wells, on Court street, near Fifth, where he met many people and made a brief address.

At the Palmer House, from the Broadway balcony, he reviewed the cadets, and made a brief address, commencing with the words: "I am glad to see you."

DAILY THOUGHT.

To make my life count for a maximum of usefulness.—Richmond Pearson Hobson.

THE PHILIPPINE DEBATE.

The dispatches say that Senator

Spencer "got sulphurous" during the debate on the Philippine tariff bill.

The Democratic attitude on the bill is enough to make any sensible Senator sulphurous. When the cooler people of the country were urging deliberate, judicious action in the Spanish-American trouble a few years ago, the hot headed Democrats were clamoring for war, and the Democratic press reeked with inflammatory demands for swift action against Spain for the Maine disaster. They wanted war, and wanted it quick. They even went so far as to call President McKinley and the administration cowards because they wanted to go slow. Finally they got the war. It was a brilliant victory for us, but that did not end the affair. We acquired certain territory as a result of that war. Right or wrong, we bought the Philippines, and they belong to us. If it is the desire of the unenlightened natives there who have been bearing arms against the United States since then, to be whipped or exterminated, it is no fault of the administration. They have no more right to the land they live on,

and no more right to govern it as they see fit in their embry civilization, than the people of Kentucky have to rebel against the government, take possession of the state and run it to suit themselves. The United States guarantees to the people of Kentucky

a free and independent form of government, and if this is good enough for us, it ought to be for the people of the Philippines, whom we have freed from the Spanish yoke, and for whom we entertain only the kindest of feelings. We have guaranteed the Philippines as good a form of government as we have, and if it does not suit them, it is because their vanity has deluded them into the belief that they are more talented than their homes, customs and habits would justify the rest of the world in believing. At any rate, the islands belong to us, and what does not suit the people living on them they will have to learn to like, or grin and bear. The Democratic idea to abandon our possessions and pull down our proud flag, to leave a people totally unlearned to govern themselves to learn by perhaps years of bloodshed, vicissitude and disappointment what we can teach them in a few years of peaceful prosperity, if they will but give us a chance, is sheer idiocy. This government will never do it, and Congress will never do anything that is suggested by the class of statesmen who are in favor of such a course. The Republicans in Congress may be counted on to do what is right, and it is a safe wager that it will not be what the Democrats in Congress advocate.

INVESTIGATING ELECTIONS.

Anent the elections in several Southern states, which may be thoroughly investigated by Congressional committees, the St. Louis Globe Democrat says:

"The proposition of Crumpacker was to ascertain the extent which these states have violated the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution, and then to inflict the penalty imposed by the former,

which would cut down the representation of each of those states in the House of Representatives, and in the electoral college. Nothing of this sort is contemplated under the plan just adopted by the Republican caucus. After the investigation is completed, however, the country will know just how far the offending states have violated the federal charter, have deprived a race of their rights and have inflicted injustice upon the country at large.

"The caucus did well in incorporating some of the Bartholdt proposition in their plan. Some flagrant assumptions have been made upon the ballot in the three states—Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee—which the Bartholdt amendment includes in the House committee's inquiry. A governorship was stolen in Tennessee. In 1894, when counted out by the Democratic legislature. For two years after that date the people of Tennessee were proscribed over by a man whom they had rejected at the polls after one of the most exciting canvasses in the recent history of the state. Kentucky recently deprived a Republican governor of his office through the operation of a law which was intended to defeat the will of the people, should they, as they did in that case, decide against the Democracy. Through the operation of the grossly indecent Nottbill law, the will of the people of Missouri in its most important city has been set at defiance, and men have obtained office under it who were opposed by a large majority of the city's voters, and who could not get a plurality under any honest election law. It is well for the country to learn the extent of all these frauds by a fair and full investigation. This sort of an inquiry will be had under the proposition which has just been adopted by the Republicans of the House."

If the city of Paducah succeeds in getting the second class charter amended as we want it, we should fare well under the second class.

There is no doubt, however, of the fact that the delegates who have gone to Frankfort have a hard fight to make. Next year mayors are to be chosen for Covington, Newport and Lexington. The regular term is four years, and the intention of the Paducah representatives is to have the legislature make it a two year term, so all second class cities' mayorality will begin at the same time which will cut out two years of some of the aspira-nts, tenure of office. There are already many prospective candidates for the offices in the three cities named,

all of which are larger than Paducah, and each probably thinks he is going to be elected, and so do his friends.

And believing that he is to be the successful aspirant, he will fight strenuously to prevent the term of office being cut in two. So will his friends.

All of them in all three of the cities are going to make a powerful adversary for Paducah, which is smaller than any of the other three, and reasonably has no more influence than any one of them, and yet has all three of them to fight, to say nothing of the influence they can muster at Frankfort. It is practically certain that the bill to pay the city jailer $2,500 a year cannot be defeated, and the Paducah delegates have little hope of defeating it. The other change desired is to have salaries of fire and police chiefs fixed by the council instead of the commissioners appointed under the second class charter. The same fight will be made against his proposed amendment from Paducah as against the other. Of course it probably will not hurt to try to get what we want, but the prospects are very dismal for getting it, and we might as well stay at home and save our money.

The Schley partisans seem disposed to die hard. The President's decision, however, has effectually squelched the controversy. As the Globe-Democrat declares, the President's dedecations are based on official facts, which he groups tersely and lucidly, and his views must be pronounced absolutely convincing. As a military spectator almost on the spot, the President was exceptionally well informed concerning the memorable sea fight at Santiago.

But it is evident from his official statement that he has recently re-acquired, by close study, a broad mastery of the details, and his ability and impartiality in presenting them are evident to every reader. The President concludes, as President Mc-

Kinley did, that Sampson was technically in command throughout the fight. Schley, he decides, was not in command, either technically or actually. Neither Sampson nor Schley gave a single order during the battle that was observed on any other ship than the one bearing them personally."

The Sun is glad to note that other papers have taken up the matter of cleaning the streets of Paducah, and keeping them clean. This should have been done long ago, but it was not. It was suggested before the many prominent visitors who came to the Y.M.C.A. convention arrived, but for some reason no move was made to do it, and as a result they have had the opportunity to see some of the dirtiest streets in the state. The city council should take the proper steps, before spring, to have the streets systematically cleaned and sprinkled throughout the summer. There is not so much necessity for it in the winter, but in summer it is most essential for the health of the community, and the appearance of the city.

It is a matter for some little jubilation that Tillman and McLaurin, the inimitable pair from South Carolina, have at last come together in the old reliable way, but it is a matter for sincere regret that it was not a fight to a finish. Such disgraceful conduct on the floor of the Senate was perhaps no more than could be expected when men like Tillman are allowed to constantly work off their billingsgate on the other members.

The Chattanooga Times echoes a deep rooted sentiment when it says: "There can scarcely be a doubt but what

Wheeler has more or less seriously damaged his party's prospects of securing a majority in the popular branch of Congress this year. A few more such speeches as he made in the House last Friday would ensure an enlarged

Republican margin, and thus more firmly intrench that party in power."

We are shortly to have three new states—Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. They have been recomended by the senate committee and this is a sufficient guarantee of their worthiness.

Frank Pixley and Gustav Luder, authors of "The Burgomaster," are responsible for the work, a combination of music, and a purely laugh-provoking comedy foundation in the very best vein of Mr. Pixley. Many musical numbers are promised of the character calculated to set the public a whistling, and the piece is set in a scenic frame of elaborateness and rare beauty. The splendor of the costuming is also dwelt upon with great stress. A few good seats still unsold.

menting principally on the number of boys and young men being trained in the various schools throughout the country, and on the ability of the United States at any time to draw large numbers of soldiers from the schools.

After dining with State Secretary H. E. Roosevelt and other prominent Y. M. C. A. delegates at the Palmer he went to the Broadway Methodist church, where he delivered his address to a crowd that overflowed into the street. At an overflow meeting at the Christ church, he delivered another address.

Following this he attended a reception at the rooms of the Kentucky club, near Fourth and Broadway, and there met many people. He left at 1:30 for the Illinois Central for Bloomington, Ill., via Louisville and Indianapolis, speaking there last night.

NOTES OF THE RAILROADS

The early morning St. Louis train came in on time this morning for the first time in many weeks.

Mr. A. M. Dustin, foreman of the boiler department of the local Illinois Central shops, will leave for Chicago tomorrow on business for the company. His position will be filled by Mr. Will Tucker until his return.

A coal car jumped the track in the south yards last night and was badly wrecked. The wrecker was taken to the place and the wreck cleared. It was on a side track and did not interfere with the running of the trains.

The surveying which the Illinois Central has been doing between Mounds and Olive Branch has materialized into a railroad line which will be the connecting link between the two bridges, says the Cairo Citizen. The articles of incorporation of the Mounds and Olive Branch road have been filed for record at the court house. The company was organized on February 20, with a capital stock of $10,000. The object is to build a line from Mounds to Olive Branch and there make connection with Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, using its track to Thebes and the bridge. This line will make the distance from Cairo to St. Louis by way of Thebes and Grand Tower, only eight miles longer than the route by Carbonale, and the road will be a low grade line, making the cost of operating much cheaper. It will also permit the Central to divert all of its St. Louis business from the main line and thus save that percent of gross earnings which it annually pays into the state treasury from the earnings of its original line.

MOODY FOR THE CABINET.
MASSACHUSETTS CONGRESSMAN LOOKED UPON AS THE SUCCESSOR OF SECRETARY LONG.

Washington, Feb. 24.—There is much speculation as to the successor of Secretary of the Navy Long. Mr. Long is not likely to leave the cabinet for several months, and it is understood that the President has not seriously considered the question of selecting the man to take his place. There is reason to believe, however, that when the time comes to act, in the matter, the name of Representative William H. Moody of Massachusetts will be among those from which the President will make the choice. Mr. Moody's friends regard him as especially qualified for the cabinet position.

His long service on the appropriations committee have given him peculiar equipment for high public station.
